

RM-10782

I am OPPOSED to this RM-10782.

The petitioners are requesting elimination of Element 1 from the rules.

Element 1 is essential to the FCC licensed Amateur Radio Operator as a viable emission mode in response to Public Service requirements. I would never forgive myself if a survival situation involving loss of lives was based upon my own or others neglecting to use all means possible to assist in saving live(s).

I know that these situations do not occur every day or often in the course our daily lives. But we must be prepared to use all means possible if critical circumstances determine the need to use cw.
